SPONSORSHIP & EXHIBITOR PROSPECTUS

WELCOME FROM THE INTERNATIONAL GEOHERMAL ASSOCIATION

As President of the International Geothermal Association, I am thrilled to invite you to be a part of the World Geothermal Congress 2026 in Calgary, Canada. This prestigious event marks a significant milestone in our journey towards a sustainable energy future. Calgary, a city known for its dynamic energy landscape and commitment to innovation, presents an unparalleled opportunity for industry leaders, researchers, and enthusiasts to come together.

Our congress will be more than just a gathering; it will be a vibrant hub of knowledge, ideas, and collaboration. By sponsoring or exhibiting at WGC2026, you are not only showcasing your commitment to geothermal energy but also aligning with the IGA's vision of harnessing the earth's natural heat for a cleaner, more sustainable world. This is an opportunity to interact with global experts, share insights, and be part of ground-breaking discussions that will redefine the role of geothermal energy in our lives.

I firmly believe that the collective expertise and passion of our community will lead us to discover innovative solutions, foster impactful partnerships, and drive the industry forward. Calgary awaits us with open arms, and I am confident that together, we will make WGC2026 a landmark event in the history of geothermal energy. Join us in this exciting journey as we delve into the endless possibilities of geothermal, shaping not just the energy landscape but also a brighter, more sustainable future for all.

Bjarni Palsson
IGA President

WELCOME FROM GEOTHERMAL CANADA

Geothermal Canada is excited to invite the global community to Calgary, the heart of Canada's energy industry, to be part of World Geothermal Congress 2026. Long a place of gathering of First Nations people, known as Moh'kinstsis in the Blackfoot language, Calgary remains a diverse, multicultural, and welcoming city. Located adjacent to the Canadian Rocky Mountains, the city offers easy access to five UNESCO World Heritage Sites that will attract participants from around the world.

Calgary developed from a ranching town, giving it a western flair, to the centre of Canada's petroleum industry, making it a hub of innovation and world leading exploration and drilling technologies. The knowledge and expertise of the city is already transforming the geothermal industry, and the timing is ripe to bring the world geothermal community here to share ideas and vision.

The unique opportunity of sponsoring and exhibiting at this event held only every 3 years will showcase commitment to solving the energy transition challenge, using the earth to heat and electrify communities and industries. It will also provide opportunity to interact with industry experts who are actively exploring and developing this clean and renewable energy resource around the world. We look forward to this exciting event and invite you to be part of the energy of WGC2026, where we will be Forging Geothermal Innovation.

Steve Grasby
Geothermal Canada President

LOCATION

Located at the foot of the Canadian Rocky Mountains, Calgary, Alberta is the ideal meeting location. Home to six UNESCO World Heritage Sites, Alberta boasts some of the world's most beautiful, inspiring, and culturally significant destinations. From Banff and Lake Louise to Head-Smashed-In Buffalo Jump and the badlands of Drumheller, this is a meeting destination like no other. Big city amenities and small-town hospitality, Calgary welcomes you for what is going to be an historic event!

VENUE

Working closely with Tourism Calgary, The International Geothermal Association (IGA) and Geothermal Canada have secured the Calgary TELUS Convention Centre (CTCC) as the venue for WGC 2026. A space of community and collaboration, the CTCC is renowned for bringing people together from around the world to share ideas, get inspired, and build relationships. Located in the heart of downtown, just minutes walk from attractions, restaurants and shops, the CTCC is the premier location for events in Calgary.

ABOUT THE IGA

The International Geothermal Association (IGA), is the leading global industry association focused on the promotion of sustainable geothermal energy as one of the key solutions for reducing the adverse effects of global warming. We generate impact through training, networking and facilitating project development in emerging markets. Our vision is to contribute to a world where people have access to affordable green energy 24/7.

ABOUT GEOTHERMAL CANADA

Geothermal Canada is a not-for-profit organization committed to advancing science and promoting geothermal research and development in Canada. Serving Canada's geothermal community by stimulating technology transfer, knowledge exchange, and information transmission, it seeks to promote innovation in Canada in the field of geothermal research. Through fostering collaborative investigations in academia, companies, and organizations, innovation in the field of geothermal research will be supported and disseminated beyond the research community.
